States, presented to the Lawson McGhee library by Calvin M. McClung. Knoxville, Knoxville Lithographing Co., 1921.

This catalog of 200 pages of a carefully selected collection has been prepared according to the best bibliographical standards. The work has been faithfully and skillfully done by Miss Louise Luttrell, and Miss Mary U. Rothrock. The typographical work is as excellent as the editing. It is encouraging to see such a notable collection as this find its home in the Lawson McGhee library. It was a passion of Mr. McClung to collect whatever pertained to East Tennessee and the adjoining parts of North Carolina, Kentucky and Virginia. The dispersion of such a library, as often happens to private collections, would have been a calamity. The State of Tennessee, and in fact, the whole South, may well be congratulated upon the far-seeing generosity of Mrs. McClung, who presented this collection to the Lawson McGhee Library. This carefully prepared catalog is good evidence that the collection has been placed in good hands.

COL. EDMUND SCARBURG'S "HEDRIC COTTAGE."

Hedric Cottage, the residence of Col. Edmund Scarburg, Surveyor General of Virginia (1630 &c.) is located at the bottom of Scarburg's Neck in lower Accomac County, (on the Eastern Shore of) Virginia. Scarburg had extensive business interests with residents of Plymouth and vicinity and it has been said that he made use of parts of the Mayflower in the construction of Hedric Cottage. The Colonial Records show that Scarburg once owned a vessel by the name of Mayflower, in his dealing with the residents of Plymouth and vicinity—the question is was this Mayflower the Mayflower of the Pilgrims of 1620?
